

Below is a classification of most of the books in the trunk, if you need to divide the individual titles into genres. These titles represent enough for 25 people. Here are the suggested book groups:

Graphic Novels (9 -- some very short and could be combined, maybe enough here for 6 people? -- the last four titles are long, the first five should be combined in some way)

Outside the Ark (short)

Faithful Witness (children's paintings)

A Child in Palestine (cartoons)

Roots Run Deep (photos from the West Bank)

Portraits of Israelis and Palestinians for my parents (by Jewish-American)

The Missing Peace (zine by Palestinian-American and Jewish-American)

Palestine: in the Gaza Strip

Palestine: A Nation Occupied

Arabs and Israel for Beginners

Accounts of Palestine (11 -- of varying lengths)

Fast Times in Palestine (American living in West Bank)

The Lemon Tree (a Palestinian and Israeli who claim the same home)

Three Wishes: Palestinian and Israeli Children Speak

Peace Under Fire (Israel/Palestine and the International Solidarity Movement)

Drinking the Sea at Gaza (Israeli journalist living in Gaza)

Drops of This Story (Palestinian American growing up in New York)

Occupied Voices (Palestinians tell their stories to American Jewish writer)

Let Me Stand Alone (Rachel Corrie's writing)

The Hour of Sunlight (a Palestinian's journey from prisoner to peacemaker)

Missing Headlines: Stories of Life in Palestine (by an American ISMer)

Blood Brothers (Palestinian Christian tells his story)

Poetry/rap by and about Palestinians (3)

Poets for Palestine (many recent poets)

Almond Blossoms and beyond (Mahmoud Darwish, a famous Pal. poet)

Zaatar Diva (Suheir Hammad, Palestinian-American poet)

Fiction by/about Palestinians (5)

Dreaming of Palestine (by a teenaged Palestinian-Italian)

The Scar of David (AKA Mornings in Jenin)

Men in the Sun and other Palestinian stories (short stories by famous Palestinians

Ghassan Kanafani)

Miral

Habibi